THE PENINSULA BEVERLY HILLS LAUNCHES “DINE & DRIVE” SUNDAY BRUNCH

- Sunday brunch at The Belvedere comes with a ride in a classic car

Beginning on March 21, 2010 guests enjoying Sunday Brunch at The Belvedere, the only AAA Five-Diamond restaurant in the Los Angeles area, can follow their meal with a chauffeured drive down the palm-lined boulevards of Beverly Hills in a beautifully restored classic car. Thanks to The Peninsula Beverly Hills’ partnership with El Segundo’s Automobile Driving Museum, museum docents will be on hand to take brunch guests for a spin in automobiles of yesteryear ranging from a 1932 Studebaker Commander to a 1961 Ford T-Bird.

“We are delighted to offer this unusual and fun experience for our guests,” said Managing Director Offer Nissenbaum. “It will appeal to those who remember driving cars just like them back in the day, as well as to those who have only heard about them from their grandparents.”

The Belvedere’s three-course Sunday Brunch, which features the contemporary market-driven cuisine of Executive Chef James Overbaugh set against the restaurant’s elegant interior and sun-splashed patio, begins with tantalizing selection of appetizers including Freshly Carved Peking Duck Wrapped in Moo Shoo with Scallions, Cucumbers and Hoisin; Heirloom Tomatoes with Fresh Mozzarella, Baby Greens, Basil and Aged Balsamic; The Peninsula’s own Smoked Salmon with Watercress, Red Onions, Cumin Roasted Potatoes and Dill Aioli; and Chef Overbaugh’s dressed-up “Macaroni and Cheese,” Elbow Pasta with Hen of the Woods Mushrooms, Summer Truffles and Parmesan Cheese.
