THE PENINSULA BEVERLY HILLS COMMEMORATES 20 YEARS OF LUXURIOUS HOSPITALITY

*20th anniversary celebration includes a fresh new look for all 193 rooms, suites and villas;
Guests who book two nights enjoy a third night for $20 and a host of benefits*

Today, The Peninsula Beverly Hills commemorates its 20th anniversary as an icon of gracious hospitality in the heart of California's most glamorous city. The festivities begin with an 8:08 am ribbon-cutting by former Mayor of Beverly Hills Vicki Reynolds, who officiated at the hotel's opening on August 8, 1991; current Mayor of Beverly Hills Barry Brucker; and The Peninsula Beverly Hills' Managing Partner Robert Zarnegin and Managing Director Offer Nissenbaum. Following the ceremony, the entire hotel staff will be honored at a breakfast celebration.

"We are grateful for the dedication and hard work that our team members have given the hotel since it opened 20 years ago," said Nissenbaum. "They are the heart and soul of The Peninsula Beverly Hills, and we are honored to salute them today."

In the past 20 years, The Peninsula Beverly Hills has garnered an impressive array of international awards and accolades, including the distinction of being the only AAA Five Diamond and Forbes Five Star hotel in Southern California for 18 consecutive years. It has also earned a reputation for offering superlative service, as evidenced by its extraordinarily high repeat-guest rate of 70%.

In celebration of its 20th anniversary, The Peninsula Beverly Hills has completed an elegant renovation of its guest rooms and suites. This fresh new look embodies the colors and textures of the property's lush gardens and preserves the hotel's original concept — to offer guests the essence of Southern California living in a setting evocative of a luxurious but relaxed Beverly Hills estate. By the end of the year, The Peninsula will complete the revitalization of its villas and unveil its four largest suites, each with its own distinctive color theme, furnishings and ambiance.
