THE PENINSULA PRESENTS THE CHAMPAGNES OF DOM PÉRIGNON

Continuing a series of exclusive dinners hosted by renowned wine makers, The Peninsula Hong Kong is delighted to welcome Mr Vincent Pagès, Brand Manager for Moët et Chandon and Dom Pérignon to Gaddi's for a very special evening on Thursday, 16th October 2008. Mr Pagès will showcase four exceptional Champagnes including Dom Pérignon Cœnothèque 1975, one of the finest Cœnothèques from a remarkable harvest year.

Cœnothèques from Dom Pérignon, which have been aging undisturbed for up to 30 years, are the finest Champagnes from great vintages only. Dom Pérignon Cœnothèque 1975 has been kept in a delicate state in the deep cellars of Moët et Chandon since its production, and its freshness and complexity remains extremely well-preserved in this 1975 vintage.

Gaddi's Chef, David Goodridge, describes Dom Pérignon Cœnothèque 1975 as “an exclusive and unique Dom Pérignon with great structure. I have designed a tasting menu to highlight the tones of the food, with the flavours in the Champagnes bringing out the nuances in the dishes, and vice versa.”

The entrée, paired with Cœnothèque 1975, has been created to extract and reinforce the flavours of the Champagne. “The citrus-marinated salmon is lightly smoked to enliven the complexity and oak aroma of the Champagne. Because the fish is poached, its texture is kept soft and creamy, while the spices of the olive oil maintain a good balance in taste. Also, the natural nuttiness in caviar enhances the rich hazelnut flavour found in the Champagne.” Every dish on the tasting menu carries the same degree of thoughtfulness in its creation to offer a fine pairing of food and Champagne.

ABOUT GADDI'S

Since its opening in 1953, Gaddi's has long held an impeccable reputation as a supreme social setting and superb restaurant. Its chandeliers and blue and gold tones create a gracious backdrop for exemplary service, gourmet French cuisine and a magnificent wine list, while a private dining room provides an excellent venue for special occasions. In addition to serving the finest French cuisine, from Mondays to Saturday evenings The Gaddi's Band plays music for dancing.

ABOUT DAVID GOODRIDGE

Gaddi's Chef, David Goodridge, honed his skills working alongside one of the world's finest chefs, Raymond Blanc. Goodridge spent eight years at the two-Michelin-starred Le Manoir aux Quat' Saisons in Oxfordshire, England, rapidly working his way through the ranks from pastry chef to attain Senior Sous Chef at the age of just 25 – a remarkable rise. Goodridge also spent three short spells gaining further experience at three triple-Michelin-starred restaurants in France: Le Maison Troisgros, Restaurant Pierre Gagnaire and La Cote D'Or.

In 1999, Goodridge was honoured with the 1999 Acorn High Achievers Award by Caterer and Hotel Magazine, the award acknowledging young achievers aged under 30. "I had the drive and ambition, but also the dedication and determination," he says. He also won three gold medals and two silvers in Salon Culinare national competitions.

After leaving Le Manoir in 2002, he worked in Tokyo and Tokushima, under respected chef Koyama Hirohisa at his eponymous restaurants. The year there allowed him to broaden his perspective by working on new skills and learning about new ingredients, as well as the different sensibilities of Asian colleagues and diners.

Goodridge says he never expected to return to Asia, but he was overwhelmed when the offer to helm the Gaddi's team came up in 2004. Four years on, Goodridge retains a simple philosophy, "I want guests to have the feeling that they can't wait to come back," he says.
